A young woman with a joyful expression is ziplining through an indoor facility. She is wearing a bright yellow t-shirt, black leggings, a yellow safety helmet, and a black harness. She is holding onto a thick rope with both hands. The background shows a large, industrial-style space with blue structural beams, wooden planks, and various pieces of equipment. The lighting is bright and even.

What is the 1000 Islands?

It's a place that not enough people know about but also a destination that has attracted visitors from around the world.

It's where families and friends gather along the water to dine, swim and cast a fishing line. It's where first-time visitors look in awe as their tour boat guides them past seemingly countless islands with mansions, lighthouses and fairytale castles. Even after a cruise, some find it hard to believe that a place with so many islands—1,864 to be exact—exists in North America.

For some, the 1000 Islands is zip-lining, kayaking and boating. For others, it's enjoying a cool beverage – made just down the road – while sitting in a dock chair, watching mammoth steel ships lumber by.

It's sunsets reflected by the St. Lawrence River and Lake Ontario. It's a place that once belonged to the Gilded Age rich that's now enjoyed by everyone.

For some, it's the familiarity of greeting their favorite B&B host-turned-friend. For others, it's the first time at a camp site they'll book for summers to come.

It's hard to sum up because there's few places like it in the world and the 1000 Islands can be enjoyed in so many different ways. You're invited to visit and discover what the 1000 Islands is to you.

Cruises

SCENIC BOAT TOURS

The most popular way to see the islands is aboard a boat cruise! Tours depart throughout the day to cruise visitors past fairytale castles, stately mansions and historic lighthouses. Tour boats zig-zag among the islands while guides entertain with true stories of pirates and bootleggers and point out homes owned by titans of industry and secret societies.

Cruises range from 1 to 5 hours; some include stops at Boldt Castle, Singer Castle and Rock Island Lighthouse.

You can pair your sightseeing cruise with a luncheon or dining excursion or enjoy a twilight tour that includes tastings by local wine and beer producers. Be sure to check for themed-party cruises, fireworks outings and other special tours throughout the season.

Fall is a popular time to cruise because visitors are treated to a “mirrored-effect” of colorful fall foliage from the islands reflecting off the water. Cruising season fluctuates depending on weather but most tour companies start in late April and wrap-up in November. ■

Castles

BOLDT CASTLE

New York City hotelier George Boldt (Waldorf-Astoria) built this six-story, 120-room mansion as a gift to his beloved wife Louise at the turn of the century.

Her untimely death left the dream unfulfilled and the castle lay abandoned for nearly a century. The stunning restoration of the castle and other island structures has topped more than $45 million and leaves visitors-many who come back annually to see the progress-in awe.

Visitors can also tour the Boldt Yacht House, home to a collection of antique boats including several owned by the Boldt family. A shuttle boat ferries passengers between Boldt Castle and the Yacht House every 30 minutes.

Visitors can tour the castle and other island structures at their leisure; tours are self-guided and aides are located throughout. The castle is accessible by tour boat and private watercraft and is handicap accessible. Visitors arriving from Canada must provide border-crossing documents. ■

Lighthouses

The lighthouses of the 1000 Islands once played pivotal roles in the safe passage of commercial, military and recreational boats through the St. Lawrence River and Lake Ontario. Today they stand as a nostalgic callback to this region's nautical history. You will find lighthouses accessible by automobile or foot along the shoreline as well as by tour boat or personal watercraft. The lighthouses are in varying states of accessibility – some you can walk the interior iron stairs to the lantern rooms – and each has a unique design to be enjoyed by lighthouse buffs and casual observers.

Boat tour passengers and private vessels should keep an eye and ear open – and a camera handy – to learn the history of each of these stoic towers. Some have been retired while others are still illuminated at night to assist boaters on their way. The lighthouses of the St. Lawrence River and Lake Ontario – part of the St. Lawrence Seaway connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean – were essential to providing safe passage for early boaters and travelers. We encourage all of today's visitors to not only take in their beauty but learn their importance in the 1000 Islands. ■

What makes an island...an island?

We actually have 1,864 islands in the “Thousand Islands.”

To become part of that count, an island must meet two criteria: it must be above water 365 days a year and it must support a living tree.

The smallest is Tom Thumb Island, located just upriver - or west - of the Canadian span of the Thousand Islands Bridge. With just one tree and only a few square feet staying above water all year, Tom Thumb barely makes the cut.

No island is divided by the international border, meaning each is either wholly within the United States or Canada. That causes the international border to zig-zag across the water instead of forming a straight line between the two counties.

In some places along the St. Lawrence River, islands that are very close are in different counties. Each island has its own individuality with features such as stately granite cliffs, soft sand bays, tall dark pines and vibrant maple trees. It’s a sightseer’s paradise.

Most islands are privately owned; accommodations range from modern mansions harkening back to the region’s time as a playground for the wealthy to modest fishing and hunting camps.

So if someone asks, remember two things: above water all year and at least one tree. Anything less is just a shoal. ■

Chasing Sunsets

Our majestic sunsets are an attraction exclusive to the Thousand Islands region and free to everyone that visits. Like watercolors in a gallery, each sensational sunset is a masterpiece, showcasing an arrangement from Mother Nature's palette. Sometimes she paints the sky lilac and lavender fading into pastel pinks edged with the blues reflecting the surrounding lakes and river, other times she uses a golden-hued swath with lines of amber and auburn that stretches into gray-blue billowing clouds against a backdrop of black silhouettes, and every display is breathtaking. ■

Discover Tug Hill

Located just south of the 1000 Islands, the Tug Hill region is considered New York State's last untouched wilderness. The Tug Hill is a vast mix of thick forests, valley farmland, gorges, scenic waterfalls and flowing rivers that offer a one-of-a-kind outdoor experience.

Few people live within the Tug Hill's 2,100 square miles, meaning there are sparse crowds, hardly any traffic and no waiting in lines. Dozens of hiking trails snake through the region, perfect for hiking, snowshoeing, mountain biking and just breathing in nature. The waterways are prime for adventurous kayakers, canoe paddling and - in some places - swimming and boating.

Record-breaking snowfalls turn the Tug Hill into a snowy playground for everyone from cross-country and downhill skiers to dog sledgers and snowmobile runners.

Maple sugar shacks, farmers' markets, diners and other staples of the rural lifestyle dot the Tug Hill's many small towns and villages. For a slower pace - with a chance for high adventure - check out the Tug Hill during your next trip. ■

1000 Islands Parkway

along ST. LAWRENCE RIVER WATERFRONT, ONTARIO

The 1000 Islands Parkway, a 40-kilometre (25-mile) waterfront route with a parallel recreational trail, offers spectacular views of the St. Lawrence River from Gananoque to Brockville.

See splendid skylines atop the 1000 Islands Tower or with 1000 Islands Helicopter Tours. Get on the water with City Cruises Gananoque, 1000 Islands Cruises of Rockport, Brockville's 1000 Islands and Seaway Cruises, or other private tours to see the region's islands and castles. Scuba divers will discover a treasure trove of wrecks and boaters will find river access via park and marina launches.

Visit Thousand Islands National Park, camp on one of its 20 islands or enjoy one of the many nearby campgrounds. Take in the public gardens of the 1000 Islands and Rideau Canal Garden Trail, visit Mallorytown's Coach House and Garden, or Treetop Trekking 1000 Islands - Canada's largest aerial adventure and zip-line park, open from mid-May to October.

Continue eastward from the Parkway and County Road 2 to Brockville's beautiful downtown waterfront with Blockhouse Island, the Aquatarium and Canada's first railway tunnel. Scenic views continue through Maitland, Prescott and Cardinal, allowing you to enjoy Fort Wellington and the Galop Canal. ■

Cape Vincent

NEW YORK

Tibbetts Point Lighthouse stands tall at the very edge of Lake Ontario where the Great Lakes system funnels into the St. Lawrence River. The lighthouse is an extension of Cape Vincent – the community where lake and river meet – and a place not to be missed by those who want to get an up-close view of this majestic waterway.

Cape Vincent is a historic community that takes great pride in its French heritage. The colorful French Festival is held every year near Bastille Day, the second weekend in July.

Visitors enjoy strolling through the Village Green for concerts, craft fairs, vintage auto shows and farmers markets throughout the spring, summer and fall. “The Cape” is home to a winery as well as a brewery, both serving locally made beverages. Events take place year round including a Sports Weekend in July which includes the Tibbetts Point Run, Cape Street Hoops 3-on-3 basketball and a cornhole tournament. There are outdoor concerts on Saturdays; the “Take a Stroll on Broadway” in August and Oktoberfest in September. Winter brings a Christmas Parade with Lights and the WinterGreen Volleyball Tournament.

Some of the best freshwater fishing in the islands begins at Cape Vincent on the St. Lawrence River with easy access to Lake Ontario just upriver. The Cape is also a great place for bicycling, kayaking and paddle boarding.

Looking to stay in Cape Vincent? Options range from a historic hotel to longer-term cottage rentals along the shoreline.

Horne’s Ferry, the only international auto passenger ferry crossing the St. Lawrence River to Canada, departs May to October. Take the path less traveled by hailing the ferry to picturesque Wolfe Island before heading to metropolitan Kingston on the Canadian side. ■

NEW YORK

This quintessential river town has undergone a revival in recent years to offer new places to stay, dine and play while preserving the small town vacation traditions that has made it a favorite among visitors for more than a century.

Clayton brought in luxury with the 1000 Islands Harbor Hotel, an up-scale Four Diamond Rated AAA hotel perched along the St. Lawrence River. Balance that with the traditional family-run motels and fire-pit and volleyball net cottage colonies along the water and you learn why more and more people are basing their 1000 Islands vacation in Clayton.

The community is harvesting the fruitful products of its inland properties and staking a claim in the craft beverage market with a brewery, two wineries with vineyards and a pair of distilleries.

Clayton's museums immerse visitors in river culture. The Antique Boat Museum is home to North America's largest collection of wooden and classic boats, many of which still venture onto the river! The Thousand Islands Museum houses the Muskie Hall of Fame. Some say it's the local fishing community who came up with the famous Thousand Island Dressing that shares the region's name.

The Thousand Islands Arts Center showcases handmade textiles and offers exhibits and workshops for seasonal and short-term visitors. Private galleries and the Clayton Opera House bring the arts to Clayton for all to enjoy.

Head downtown and discover small shops focused on river- and cottage-themed apparel, keepsakes and more. Enjoy a quick bite or meticulously planned meal while seated outdoors, often with a stunning river view. Make Clayton your first-stop for diving into the 1000 Islands. ■

Gananoque

ONTARIO

Just west of the Thousand Islands International Bridge is riverside Gananoque, the perfect spot for a 1000 Islands vacation that mixes small-town charm, outdoor adventure and unforgettable experiences.

Fun awaits in “Gan,” from swimming at Joel Stone Park and biking along the Parkway to kayaking among the Admiralty Islands just off shore. It’s the only place in the region to view the islands from way above, via 1000 Islands Helicopter Tours or SkyDive Gan.

Gananoque’s easily accessible waterfront is the perfect launching point for cruising along the St. Lawrence River via either the many sightseeing and dining tours aboard Gananoque Boat Line or with a private fishing charter departing daily in season.

Catch a glimpse of island history at the nearby 1000 Islands History Museum and Thousand Islands Boat Museum, both located in the harbor! Just down the shoreline is the Thousand Islands Playhouse, offering professional theatre in an intimate venue right on the water with docking for arriving at shows via private watercraft!

An emerging culinary scene and mix of traditional, locally owned lodging and recognizable chains make Gananoque the ideal spot for a 1000 Islands vacation. ■

Watertown

NEW YORK

The city of Watertown is the urban center of Northern New York, with the modern conveniences of national chain stores, restaurants and hotels co-existing with a healthy community of independent shopping, locally owned restaurants and recreational services that provide local flair and a friendly atmosphere.

One of Watertown's greatest treasures - the Black River - is just steps from the shops, wine bars, gastropubs and restaurants of downtown's Public Square. Seven miles of whitewater featuring 14 sets of class III and IV rapids offer thrilling and reliable adventures from spring through fall. The river has several great play spots for kayakers and has hosted national whitewater competitions.

The downtown area is also a hub for culture and community. A few local favorites include the seasonal Watertown Farm and Craft Market, the Summer Downtown Block Parties, Snowtown USA, and the Snowtown Film Festival among other community events and festivals. The Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library and Jefferson Country Historical Society offer a glimpse into Watertown's charming history, while the Sci-Tech Museum adds an educational touch.

The city's beautiful Olmsted-designed Thompson Park has golfing, tennis and Zoo New York. Dedicated to the bears, eagles and other animals of New York, the Zoo New York in Thompson Park is the only one of its kind. The park's picnic areas and stone pavilions can be reserved for private functions through the city Parks and Recreation Department. The park is also home to the Thompson Park Vortex, an unexplained phenomenon that is said to teleport those who discover it - unharmed - to another location within the park without explanation. The mysterious location is said to move within the park and visitors enjoy searching for it.

Winter in and around the Watertown area brings tubing, snowboarding and downhill skiing to the Dry Hill Ski Area as well as snowshoeing and Nordic skiing to Thompson Park.
